

holiday on demand

WHAT IF YOU HAD THE OPTION PACK UP AND GET AWAY FOR A WEEKEND, OR EVEN A FORTNIGHT, WITHOUT THE USUAL WORRY OF FLIGHTS, TRANSFERS AND WHETHER YOUR HOTEL WILL BE UP TO SCRATCH AT THE OTHER END? SOUND APPEALING? THEN A MOTORHOME HOLIDAY MAY BE FOR YOU.

Our holiday habits are changing. For years we might have spent days scanning through holiday brochures, months looking forward to going away, and hours waiting around airports...and all for our long-awaited holiday to be over before we know it. How often have you said you need a holiday to recover from the last one? With time off such a scarce commodity these days, we want to be making the most of every second and not wasting it standing in long queues at airports checking through security. More and more of us are now cottoning on to the quick-fix get-away solution that motorhome hire gives us, literally offering the opportunity for holidays on demand. At the end of a stressful week or the start of a bank holiday, you can make the decision to escape to pastures new for a change of scenery or some much needed relaxation.

Tony Fitch, owner of Holiday on Wheels - a booking agent for motorhome hire - says "I have young children, and I can tell you, every time we go out in one of our vehicles, it is an adventure every bit of the way.... they love it".

Whether you want to tour this Country or take one on a road trip to Europe, then Holiday on Wheels can help that dream become a reality. Unlike most hire companies, the vehicles they have registered on their fleet belong to private individuals who rent their vehicles in the same manner as a buy to let holiday cottage. Because they belong to private individuals they are located around the Country, rather than in just one place, making it more accessible for most people. You can either pick one up local to where you live, or closer to where you may be travelling to. It's simple.

Motorhome owners

If you don't get the most out of your vehicle and it sits idle on your driveway a lot of the time, why not enquire about renting it out to potential holiday makers in your area. Director's note

Tony Fitch

"Over the last 10 years the ownership of Motorhomes has grown significantly, this is largely down to the design changes that have taken place. Today's motorhomes are more modern, and are therefore appealing to a much wider audience. How many people do you hear say, "when we retire we are going to buy one of those Winnebago things and travel Europe for 6 months"! Why wait is what I say!"
